The Hamiltonian.

JULY, 1866.

Issued by the Class of 1866.

EDITORS:

JOHN H. CUNNINGHAM, JUSTUS B. CRANE,
JOSEPH Y. CHAPIN.

AND THERE CAME A VOICE SAYING,

In the middle of the month, seventh from the first, the same that is called July, there endeth another cycle at Hamilton. We know this cycle is complete; for when we turn to the last issue of the Hamiltonian, we find it like an old almanac—truthful in its day and generation, but now fit only to be laid on a high shelf, a curiosity rather than a thing of use.

And what does this augur? Augur? It hinteth that a new Hamiltonian must be had. So the weired quill squeaketh, the sullen press thuggeth, and a Hamiltonian, fraught with its mysterious revelations, comes to us.

From nearly every well-regulated college, a class graduates every year. It has been so, at least, at Hamilton, for many years back. Therefore it is no startling announcement to say, that the class of '66 has fought the good fight, has finished its work, and is now only waiting. We say it is not unusual for classes to graduate, but we also say it is an unusual event with the class of '66 "as such." We never graduated before, never will again. To the three great dating points of life, birth, marriage and death—for college men, is added a fourth—graduating.

A neighboring knight of the quill suggested to us, not long since, that we were getting very aristocratic on this Hill, since we can not have commencement without importing music. (He was alluding to the fact that Gillmore's Band is coming from Boston to play for us during commencement week.) Moralizing, we began thus: O Knight, when we are born, we have the tenderest care; when we are married, we have the best of clothes bought for us; when we die, we do 'nt have to pay the expenses. In these, we are objective agents; and now, when we graduate, allow us, if you please, to act a subjective part. The enjoyment of commencement-goers shall be a care to us. We shall wear our best clothes. We shall pay our own expenses.

What the last year has done, how it fares with Hamilton, our columns elsewhere will sufficiently show. We are glad to notice that the interest of Hamilton Alumni for their Alma Mater is taking a tangible shape. Dr. Goertner says the western boys have done nobly. We say, let the eastern boys do likewise, and they will be amply repaid in the superiority of Hamilton's advantages for doing justice to her many sons that are to be.

As the years go by, the beauty of the campus increases. Wood-nymphs can find no shadier home. Lazy students can find no cooler retreats. Do you long for the deep quiet of the wild wood, you need not go off the campus. Do you delight in rolling in the deep grass, you can perform that role on the campus. Would you study the bird-art of nest-building, you have only to loll out of the upper story windows, to see the process going on among the limbs below you.

Would you walk among the dead? In the college grounds are laid to rest many whose joyous hearts have beat quick with enthusiasm on this campus. There is a new grave there. When the dreamy October sunlight gilded the hillside, and the ripe leaves were beginning to rustle down from the ashes and the maples, we bore our fellow-student, JOHN H. BLORE, to the grave. May it be long before another mound is thrown up in our college cemetery.

The Hamiltonian of '66 is now given to the world. The record of the class is made up. There are left only the excitement of commencement week, the last orations, the last good-bys. We go as many a class before us has gone, hardly knowing whether joyfully or sadly. The future may decide it.

TREE PLANTING.

The tree planting exercises of the Class of '66 took place on the 13th of June, and were of an impressive and interesting character. Owing to the weather, they were held in the College Chapel, and at their conclusion the Class adjourned to the campus, and performed the ceremony of burying the box containing all matters connected with the Class. A beautiful American white oak now represents the Class of '66 on the College campus, a fit emblem of the character of the class.

At the foot of the tree is a large boulder, on which is engraved the motto of the Class, Ἔργα πρὸ, λόγων. May the Class of '66 show themselves to be men of oak, and their deeds rather than words mark their advancement.

UNION SOCIETY.

Efforts have recently been made to revive the Old Union Society, and in another column the names of the Officers may be found. Most of the Alumni can remember when this Society was one of the institutions in Hamilton College, and they will be glad to learn that the prospects are favorable for its re-establishment on a firmer foundation than ever before. In all the Colleges in the country, one or more Literary Societies may be found; and it is a disgrace to Hamilton, that, with her other advantages, she has not of late years had a society devoted exclusively to literary advancement.

☞ During Commencement week, the Observatory, Cabinet, Library, and other College buildings, will be open for the reception of visitors.

KINGSLEY PRIZES.

CHARLES C. KINGSLEY, Esq., of Utica, a graduate of Hamilton College in the Class of 1852, has again exemplified at once his liberality and his attachment to his Alma Mater. Last year, by a munificent gift of $6,000, he completed the endowment of the Kingsley Professorship of Rhetoric. During the present year he has endowed the Prizes in Declamation, which, since the foundation of the College, have incited to excellence in elocution, but which had not been permanently endowed. He has also established a Prize Fund of $1,500, the interest of which will hereafter be given, in two prizes, to members of the Senior Class who excel in extemporaneous speaking.

The simple announcement of such generosity teaches its own lesson. It suggests the manifest connection there is between college culture and success in business, and how the advantages that culture has given may be gratefully acknowledged. It indicates the place where good investments will "pay." This last investment will not only pay our noble hearted friend, in the honor it will perpetually confer upon his name, and especially in the consciousness of a good deed well done; but it will be profitable to the students and graduates of Hamilton, in giving them so much self possession and mental self control, that before an audience they can forget themselves. It will stimulate them to think, and think methodically upon their feet, and to express their thoughts clearly and with a purpose. In all departments of instruction and effort, in the classics and mathematics, and in philosophy as well as in rhetoric, they will begin to realize in a new sense the political ideal of Tacitus—"thinking as they please, and speaking what they think."

OBITUARY.

On September 19th, 1864, in Clinton, died JAMES BRADLEY COOK, of the Class of '66.

From his mind of the highest order, clear, quick and comprehensive, with the added discipline of our later course, we should have looked for a high mark in the world.

He was warm hearted and affectionate, impetuous and daring, frank and honorable—remarkable for absence of all wavering and hesitation—for rapid judgment and bold, honest decision.

As a classmate he was self-forgetful and enthusiastic, and of course popular.

The genial, kind friend, leaves rich and sweet, though sad memories in his place in many hearts—a place greater than we knew, till he was taken away. More of pleasure than of sorrow comes with his name—even to loving parents and friends—for the vision that arises, of the dear old friend and the good old times, is brightened by the thought of his manly, beautiful Christian death.

THE CURRAN MEDAL.

The new CURRAN MEDAL, to be struck in gold, and awarded annually for superiority in classical learning, will be one of the most desirable of the many prizes now open for competition in Hamilton College. In size and value it will equal the Pruyn Medal, and as a work of art will be skillfully executed. The obverse of the medal will carry a portrait of the late Col. HENRY H. CURRAN, copied from an admirable profile sketch by M. E. D. Brown, of Utica. This will be surrounded by the Greek legend, 'αριστεύσας πάντα πατρίδος ὑπερμαχῶν ὄλωλε. On the reverse will be this inscription, "Decretum a Collegii Hamiltonensis Facultate Artium, * * * literarum Græcarum Latinarumque præstanti," surrounded by the Latin legend, "In memoriam Henrici H. Curran, qui patriæ obiit. Maii quinto A. D., MDCCCLXIV."

The endowment of the Curran Medal is a fitting and graceful way of honoring the memory of a fallen hero. It adds another to the recent benefactions for which the College is largely indebted to its friends in Utica, and which bind together in close and grateful sympathy the busy, opulent city, and the quiet, academic village.

A PROMISED FEAST.

The Society of Alumni are right fortunate in having secured for this year's Orator and Poet a pair of graduates, who, by their native gifts, professional eminence and contact with stirring life, are well fitted to honor the occasion that calls them to Clinton. Hon. THEODORE M. POMEROY is now a member of Congress for the third time, and holds the chairmanship of a very important committee. Honored at Washington and at home as a wise statesman and a cogent speaker, whatever topic he may handle at Commencement will be handled in a masterly way. Rev. WILLIAM J. ERDMAN, though a younger Alumnus, has proved himself doubly native to the language of Gœthe and Schiller. During the war for the Union, he has had to do with scenes of wild adventure and bloody heroism, that will furnish inspiration for "thoughts that breathe and words that burn."

PERSONAL STATISTICS.

In their religious professions and preferences, the Class of 1866 divide themselves thus:—

Presbyterians,	22	Episcopalian,	1
Congregationalists,	3	Universalist,	1
Methodists,	3	Unclassified,	3
			33

In chosing their life-work, the result is as follows:—

Law,	13	Banking,	2
Theology,	8	Teaching,	2
Business,	7	Engineering,	1
			33

The average age of the members of this class is 21 2-3 years. Six of them have served with honor, most of them as commissioned officers, in the army of the Union. Twenty-seven of the class were born in the State of New York; three in Illinois; two in New Hampshire, and one in South Wales.

A GOOD IDEA.

During Commencement Week, Mr. J. T. WATSON will keep a Register at the Telegraph Office, and Alumni and strangers are invited to enter their names, and the places where they tarry while in Clinton. This Register will be a great convenience, and it is hoped that the citizens of Clinton will lend their aid to make it as complete as possible.

THE LIBRARY HALL.

At a Meeting of the Alumni and friends of Hamilton College, held at the Sherman House, in Chicago, on the 18th day of April, A. D. 1866, the following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That we, the Alumni and friends of Hamilton College, residing in Chicago and the North West, have listened with profound gratification to the Rev. Dr. GOERTNER'S account of the present prosperity and success of said College."

"Resolved, That we cherish a deep admiration and gratitude for the noble example of the late WILLIAM CURTIS NOYES in bequeathing his magnificent library, valued at sixty thousand dollars, to Hamilton College; and also for those other friends in New York who purchased and presented to her the rare and valuable collection of the late Professor ROBINSON."

"Resolved, That we learn with regret that the College has no proper or suitable place for the reception of these Gifts, and being desirous of doing honor to the generosity of others; of aiding our Alma Mater; of serving the cause of education, and of strengthening and cementing the ties of all the Alumni and friends of the College to each other, and to the men who are to follow them, we here pledge ourselves to use our utmost endeavors to raise the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, to be devoted to the erection of a Library Hall."

"Resolved, That we have heard with great pleasure that our brother, PERRY H. SMITH, of the class of 1846, now resident of Chicago, Ill., has indicated the intention of contributing one-half of said twenty-five thousand dollars to build a Library Hall, provided a like amount shall be raised among the Alumni and Friends of said College; it is therefore the unanimous desire of this meeting and the subscribers to this fund, as an expression of our appreciation of the noble generosity which prompted this act of munificence, that the said Hall shall be styled and known as "THE PERRY H. SMITH HALL," and that there shall be erected in the same a marble tablet, inscribed with a brief history of the foundation of said Hall, and the names of the persons contributing thereto."

"Resolved, That we do hereby appoint Prof. GOERTNER on the part of the Faculty, Hon. O. S. WILLIAMS on the part of the Trustees, and P. V. ROGERS, Esq., on the part of the Alumni, to superintend the erection of said Hall, and Messrs. JOHN M. ROUNTREE, DANIEL SHEPHARD, D. GOODWIN, Jr., W. S. POPE, and ELLIOTT ANTHONY, as a committee on our own behalf, to raise the sum necessary for the erection of said Hall, and to be consulted in reference to the style and plan of the same."

"Resolved, That said committee be instructed to use such despatch in raising the funds and in commencing the work, that the corner-stone of said Hall may be laid during the next commencement week; that our brother PERRY H. SMITH, be invited to lay the same, and that the committee on our behalf shall appoint some suitable persons to pronounce an oration and poem on occasion of the laying of said corner-stone of said Hall, and that as many of us as possible will personally attend the same."

The meeting was a hearty and enthusiastic one. In addition to those of the Chicago Alumni who were present, were several from abroad. Letters were received and read from large numbers who could not personally attend.

The undersigned were appointed by said meeting, a Committee to solicit aid and co-operation to make up the amount necessary to build the Hall.

JOHN M. ROUNTREE,
DANIEL SHEPHARD,
DANIEL GOODWIN, Jr., } COMMITTEE.
WILLARD S. POPE,
ELLIOTT ANTHONY,

We had hoped to be authorized to announce the names of the Orator and Poet for the Corner-Stone Celebration. In the place of this, we have the assurance that the Chicago Committee are rapidly consummating their plans, and that a programme of the proposed exercises will soon appear in the daily papers. We are also informed that the Executive Committee and Faculty of the College, have heartily endorsed the proceedings at Chicago, and have set apart the forenoon of Wednesday, July 18th, for the Laying of the Corner Stone of the PERRY SMITH Hall.

As undergraduates of Hamilton, we look forward to the completion of the PERRY SMITH Hall with glad anticipations. A splendid monument of western enterprise and munificence, a noble expression of grateful attachment to Alma Mater, a perpetual inspiration to high and generous endeavor, it will also supply an every day want, that pinches us more painfully than than we would care to confess. Proud of our College in other respects, we rejoice with filial joy, that we are soon to be released from the mortification, discomfort, and positive detriment of mean lodgings for the books that belong to the College Library.

We are right glad, too, that the relief comes from those whose names, in college talk, are surrounded with a kind of traditional splendor; who used to go through their annual class "rows," and their daily "bloods" or "fizzles," with heroic nonchalance; who used to climb the narrow stairs of the Library loft, and "draw" the same old Phœnix and Union books that our eyes and thumbs are familiar with. Success in life seems to us more positive and enviable, when it confers the privilege of doing such unselfish deeds as the Western Alumni have undertaken, and of relieving our long-suffering, patient Alma Mater in her struggles with the res angusta domi.

Within the past year a College paper, called the "HAMILTON CAMPUS," has been started by some enterprising young gentlemen of the Class of '67. It is devoted principally to matters connected with College and Seminaries, and presents each week articles from the students of these institutions.

We have long needed a paper in which to chronicle the daily events in college-life, and we trust that the CAMPUS will receive that support which is due it as a student's paper.

The CAMPUS equals, if it does not excel, any paper of a similar character in the country.

The Annual Convention of the SIGMA PHI SOCIETY will be held with the BETA of New York, at Hamilton College, on Tuesday, July 17, 1866.

The Address will be delivered by Z. K. PANGBORN, of the Alpha of Vermont; and the Poem, by HORACE MACK, of the Beta of New York.

The "Hamilton Literary Monthly" is the name of a Magazine about to be issued by Messrs. BEST, BRADFORD, BREED, BULLARD, and SOPER, of the Class of '67. It will be exclusively a literary magazine, and each number will contain one of the successful Clark Prize Orations. Among its contributors, are Professors NORTH, UPSON, and Rev. ALBERT ERDMAN. From the names of the Editors, we feel assured that it will be a magazine of more than ordinary merit, and one that will be worthy of the support of the students and all those interested in literature.
